KORDA CAPTURES WIRE-TO-WIRE WIN ON HOME TURF

It took 20 holes of golf, but now nine-time LPGA Tour winner Nelly Korda secured her first win of the 2024 season at the LPGA Drive On Championship defeating Lydia Ko with a par on the second playoff hole at Bradenton Country Club.

Taking a four-stroke lead into her final round on Sunday, Korda stayed steady through her first four holes before recording a bogey on No. 5, allowing the field to creep back into contention. It would be until No. 14 that Korda would card her second of three bogeys on the round, following that up with a double bogey on the par-3, No. 15. Her third bogey of the round on the 16th dropped her out of the lead and placed her at eight-under par with two holes to play.

Thanks to an eagle on No. 17, Ko placed herself in prime position to secure the win with a three-stroke lead heading into No. 18. Not without the dramatics, Korda also recorded an eagle of her own to have a chance at a playoff, needing a birdie on the final hole. Both Korda and Ko were the only players to make eagles on hole 17 on the final round of play. After her drive on the 18th, Korda knocked her approach shot within inches of the cup on No. 18 and tapped in the birdie putt to force a playoff.

The duo replayed No. 18 and on their approach shots, Korda set herself up nicely with a long look at birdie while Ko hit hers errantly to the left off the green. A great up and down from Ko, a missed birdie putt from Korda and a couple of pars set the two back up to the 18th tee for another playoff hole. After their approach shots, the roles were reversed and Ko had a chance at a long birdie and Korda was off the back of the green. Ko left her birdie putt short, and Korda chipped on about to about three feet from the cup. Ko lipped out her par putt and tapped in the bogey before Korda sealed her hometown win, knocking down the three-footer.

“Every win has a story,” said Korda. “This one was definitely -- just with the struggles of last year and just with today as well, I thought I completely lost it. Being in my hometown and having the hometown support was incredible. I didn't think this many people would show up. Even on the first day, Thursday, the amount of people that were out here supporting was incredible. I couldn't have done it without all their positive energy.”

2023 CPKC Women’s Open winner Megan Khang finished solo third at eight-under par with 2023 LPGA Tour rookie Lucy Li, earning her first top-10 finish as a member on the LPGA Tour, tied for fourth alongside Ayaka Furue at 7-under. Furue earned her second-straight T4 finish of the year. 2024 LPGA Tour rookies Auston Kim and Mone Inami finished T6 and eighth, respectively with Kim making her first LPGA Tour cut ever. Defending champion Celine Boutier finished T16 in her first start of 2024 and Rolex Rankings No. 1 Lilia Vu finished T55.

QUOTABLE

Auston Kim on the emotions of playing in her first LPGA Tour event as a member

"It was a very stressful week. I'm not going to lie. But I felt a lot of emotions coming down the last six holes. I'm so grateful to be able to do this for a living. Yeah, I'm just so grateful right now. I didn't think I was going to get this emotional, but I'm so grateful for what I do. I'm so very grateful that this is my job and I have the privilege to be here. I just really enjoyed playing golf this week. I had so much fun. I can't wait to see where this takes me."

Jasmine Suwannapura on her final round at the LPGA Drive On Championship

"It's tough. It's tough. Today was tough for sure. But, you know, I did my best. Hit a lot of good iron shot and a couple hole that it didn't really take it, so it's kind of like stay out there and went in trouble couple holes. Especially 18. I hit right at it. I'm like, please be good. And it went straight at the pin and went long. So it happens."

Lucy Li on what she will be taking away from the tournament

"A lot of positives to see the stuff that I'm working on start to work. You know, mainly just my mental state, just being able to be free and play golf without too much pressure, I think that's the main thing. Yeah, a lot of positives."

Lydia Ko on her play in the playoff and during this week

"I played solid. You know, obviously sucks to miss a three-footer on the last and get it out of my hands. I think that was kind of the goal, the whole goal today. Like whatever happened I want to be able to finish the job in my control. I missed that putt but I actually made a really good stroke and I just misjudged the speed on the first one. And then on the second one I just under-read it. Other than that, I can't really complain when I've hit four decent shots. Just wasn't my time to be and Nelly made a really good up and down on the last. Just wasn't my win."
