Aon Insight

An accurate tee shot at the 14th at Dundonald Links is critical to subsequent success the rest of the hole. In 2023, players who missed the fairway here averaged half-a-stroke higher than those who hit it. Going for this green in two is virtually impossible without finding the fairway first: over the last two years, only 3% of players have hit the green in two after missing the 14th fairway. Last year, Celine Boutier found this fairway three times, including on Sunday, when her birdie gained 0.87 strokes on the field.
