Extended forecast – As high pressure builds into the region in the wake of a passing cold front, dry conditions and partly cloudy skies will hold through the weekend. Cooler air will filter into the region bringing high temperatures to the 60s and low 70s – coolest on Saturday; overnight lows will occur in the low 50s to low 60s. Additionally, breezy winds may develop on occasion with peak gusts within 20-25 mph possible.
