

SATURDAY, MARCH 7, 2026 – 6 AM WEATHER FORECAST

Today will probably be the “nicest” day of the week. Sunshine pops out just occasionally, but regardless, the wind will ramp up around lunchtime and begin its daily pattern of peaking in the late afternoon. Gusts will be similar to days’ past, with a few moments spent in the lower 20s during a steady eastern breeze. Tonight, the winds relax again, before another breezy Sunday. The main difference is that cloud cover is expected to be thicker on Sunday, with the chance of sprinkles or light rain showers in the afternoon hours.
