PRE-TOURNAMENT AVAILABILITY HIGHLIGHTS

Rolex Rankings No. 1, Jeeno Thitikul

Jeeno Thitikul on how she manages expectations

"I think I always stay grounded. Like what I have, world No. 1, the win, whatever it is, I just set it out on my side, and then what I have to do is doing my job because like new week, and every reset. Everyone has equal opportunities to be able to win the tournament, right? How many players, like 70-something players, we all have the same chance right now to be able to win the tournament and to be able to do the things on four days that's going to come in. I think just your job. What I really want to do, I want to be good at it. Good at the shots I have. Good at each day that I have in a tournament, that's it."

Rolex Rankings No. 3 Charley Hull

Charley Hull on being the highest ranked Englishwoman in the history of the Rolex Rankings

Yeah, it's pretty cool. Obviously my goal since I was little was always to be world No. 1. But yeah, it's pretty cool that obviously got to No. 3. But I'm not really one to stare at rankings and stuff because it shifts all the time. I just look at, it think it's pretty cool, carry on, and crack on play golf.

Rolex Rankings No. 6 Lydia KoVideo | TranscriptLydia Ko on her motivation at this point in her career

I think the U.S. Women's Open has always been a big star or key on the schedule in any season. I obviously haven't won that. So that's always a motivation. But all in all, I think just outside of how many event I want to win and what tournament I want to win, I feel like my game is trending to the point where I know that if I just keep working on, it'll just become a better golfer and the results kind of sort itself out. I'm honestly excited for the process and not really much -- what exact event that I really want to grasp. I feel like if I do the process well, then everything else is going to kind of sort itself out. So, yeah, I honestly am enjoying, I think, the work in between right now. And it's pretty hard to say when you've been on tour for 13 years because sometimes I do turn up and I'm like, okay, this again. But I am really excited to see where my game is heading, and that's why I'm excited for this year because I just feel like I'm becoming a little more consistent and stronger fundamentally as the golfer, Lydia.

Rolex Rankings No. 8 Ruoning YinVideo | TranscriptRuoning Yin on everything she has achieved in her career

"My golf journey, well, I think my achievements is way ahead of what I expecting it. So when I first got on tour, I just -- I just think, okay, maybe it's been three years to get used to play on the LPGA Tour, and after three years, we'll see what happens. But right now, this is my fifth year, and I already got five wins, and one major. I think it's a privilege, and I'm just happy to be here and to be playing on the LPGA Tour, yeah."

Sponsor Invitation and Rolex Rankings No. 90 Shannon TanVideo | TranscriptShannon Tan on competing this week as a Singaporean

"I think for me in terms of heading into this week, I'll treat it like how I treat every other week. At the end of the day, it's still -- I'm going to take it shot-by-shot, hole-by-hole and just stick to my game plan. I mean, definitely, I want to do well and I want to be up there amongst the big names. But I think if I focused on the small steps and my small processes that I have, then that should add up to the big picture. And I think, yeah, just mentally, just head into this week like I prepare for every other week."
