COMPETITION HIGHLIGHTS

- Winner: Jenny Shin earned her second LPGA Tour win following her maiden win in Texas 10 years, 2 months and 25 days
 - The third time since 1980 that an LPGA player went 10 or more years between official wins
 - The last LPGA player to go 10 or more years between official victories was Vicki Fergon, who went 12 years, 3 months and 6 days between victories at the 1984 S&H Golf Classic and the 1996 Michelob Light Heartland Classic
 - The last PGA Tour player to go 10 or more years between victories was Lucas Glover who went 10 years, 2 months and 4 days between the 2011 Wells Fargo Championship and the 2021 John Deere Classic
 - Broke her streak of consecutive under par rounds at the ISPS HANDA Women's Scottish Open with her three-over 75 on Sunday
 - The last time the eventual winner shot three-over par or more in their final round and still won was In Gee Chun, 2022 KPMG Women's PGA Championship
 - Had five bogeys, including three straight on holes 6-8
 - Missed the fairway and green on each of the holes she bogeyed today
 - Made two birdies on Nos. 10 and 12

- After leading in multiple statistical categories throughout the week, she finished:
 - T2 in birdies made this week (17 total)
 - T3 in least putts (113 total)
 - T5 in least bogeys made (8 total)
- Held the lead or co-lead each day this week, making it her first wire-to-wire victory
 - In her 2016 win, she never held a post-round lead
- Heads to the AIG Women's Open next week
 - The only player to win the AIG Women's Open and the event before is Jiyai Shin, who won the 2012 Kingsmill Championship before winning the AIG Women's Open

- Jenny Shin Final Round Highlights
- Runner-up: A Lim Kim shot a final-round 68 to move into solo second
 - Shot the second-lowest score on Sunday, following Hye-Jin Choi's 67
 - Made four straight birdies on holes 9-12 to make a charge at the lead
 - Missed just one green in R4 on No. 2, which was her only recorded bogey of the day
 - Tied for the most greens in regulation hit throughout the week (58/72)
 - This is her best finish since the 2025 Hilton Grand Vacations Tournament of Champions when she won the event

QUOTABLES

Jenny Shin (1st, -9) on what has kept her going

"The competition. I kept looking at the leaderboard and I hate being chased but at the same time, I think I love adrenaline. I'm definitely a junky. So I just love competing. Just the whole, you know, the mental width that I had with Pajaree, as well. She was making a bunch of birdies and I was making bogeys and I could feel her breath right next to me. It was fun. That was exhilarating. So yeah, we're all lunatics out here, and I'm one of them."

Shane Codd (Jenny Shin's caddie) on what he was saying to her during the final round

"It's hard when you haven't won for ten years, and just trying to keep her in the present to be honest. Like keep her where we were at that moment, not dwelling not happened or thinking ahead or lifting the trophy later on. Trying to keep her in the present all day and keep talking to her and keeping her smiling, that's basically it. She did really well. Like under that pressure, she should be really proud of herself today."

Nelly Korda (T16, +2) on how she would summarize the week

"Very up-and-down week. It was nice to finish with a good round on Sunday leading into next week but I think any time that you get to play in this kind of weather right before the British, it's great prep and you know what you're going to get. So experienced everything this week, sunshine, a little bit of warmth, and sideways rain, gusty winds. But that's a given out here. So just trying to get into the mindset for next week and also like bounces are to the going to go your way. There's so many things that are going on during your shot that you really have to stay committed. This year is definitely firmer. Next week from what I've heard, it's going to be really firm. Trying to hit those show lots running into the green. Don't get to play those too often, so the more practice you get, the better."
