EUROPE REGAIN SOLHEIM CUP

Europe won the 2026 Solheim Cup 15-13 on a dominant final day at Bernardus Golf in the Netherlands. Tied 8-8 with the United States heading into the Singles, the hosts charged to their first outright victory since 2021, with Lottie Woad's point against Auston Kim nudging the total to 14 points before Carlota Ciganda made it 15 with a 4&2 victory over Jennifer Kupcho.

WHAT THE CAPTAINS SAID

"The Europeans played great today, and that's the way it goes. So their backs were against the wall, they had nothing to lose, and that's exactly what they did, they came out and played well, so good for them. I think we did a lot of things right leading up to it. They fought hard, and we seemed to always be on the same page."

-U.S. Team Captain Angela Stanford

"This feels so good. There's just been so much hard work this week and in the last two years leading up to this from not only me, but all the background team. The rain was good mojo for us early. It was a no-brainer to put Charley (Hull) out first. We saw the stats yesterday, and Charley and Lottie were actually in the top four players who made the most birdies for the week. And then a strong finish with Carlota (Ciganda), she's done it in the past."

-European Team Captain Anna Nordqvist

★ DAY THREE REVIEW ★

COMPETITION HIGHLIGHTS - SINGLES

- This was the seventh time that the Solheim Cup was tied entering the final (singles) session. In all seven instances, the home team either won or retained the Cup (6-0-1).
- Carlota Ciganda earned the clinching point today. She also had the decisive point in Europe's retention of the Cup in 2023. She becomes just the second player to earn the decisive points twice, joining Catriona Matthew who secured the European victory in both 2003 and 2013.
- Linn Grant & Alison Lee became the ninth and 10th players in history to go 4-0-0 (or better) during one Solheim Cup.
 - Linn Grant posted a 4-0-0 record this week after going 0-4-0 two years ago in Virginia. She becomes the first player ever to earn at least four points in one Solheim Cup after earning zero points in her most recent previous appearance.
- Alison Lee had the largest comeback on record having won her singles match after being 4 down.
 - It has been over 20 years since the last time a Ryder Cup player overcame a 4-down deficit to win a singles match.
- Anna Nordqvist's four Captain's Picks (Leona Maguire, Nastasia Nadaud, Julia Lopez Ramirez and Mimi Rhodes) combined to produce a record of 8-4-1 (.654), which was the best record by a collection of European Team Captain's Picks since 2013 (7-1-0, .875).

★ DAY THREE REVIEW ★

WHAT THE PLAYERS SAID – SINGLES

"Everything just happened so fast. Even, like, three, four months ago if someone told me I was playing the Solheim Cup, I would have said, Absolutely not. And now getting three points for Europe is just absolutely crazy. Got no words for that." Nastasia Nadaud

"I'm so happy. I think we had a great team all week. Very happy for Anna. The rookies, I think it's been one of the best teams that we've had in the last few years. Everyone just a unit, a team. That's what Europe is about. And we had a great time. Some great matches, lots of birdies. Very happy to do it for Anna." Carlota Ciganda

"I'm happy that I've got a point this week, even though it's only one and a half points, but it's better than none." Charley Hull

"Ang trusted me, I was one of the first ones to go out and hopefully lead the way off. All of us play the same equal part on this team. Every girl is so amazing, inside and out, individual, even as golfers." Nelly Korda

"I'm one of the oldest people here. And I hope that people out there, you know, like, don't give up on their dreams and keep fighting for them. That's kind of what my story's about and that's -every day I get to play out here with these girls I feel so grateful to be able to do that." Lindy Duncan
